AFTER THE UNION PACIFIC

Another Batch of Torrid Resolutions Read at the Council's Meeting.

CONDITION OF THE CITY SEWER SYSTEM

Exhaustive Report from the Engineer or the Subject of Public Sanitation-Members Tangled in Regard to Dealing with a Veto.

The officials of the Union Pacific Railway company evidently didn't know that the city council was loaded when it conceived the idea of erecting a boiler shop fifty-five feet high across the foot of Cass street and on the proposed line of the west approach of the Nebraska Central Railway company's bridge, but when they learn of the action taken last night they may change their minds in some

The business of the council was being transacted without a hitch until Mr. Munro introduced this resolution:

Whereas, The Union Pacific Railroad company has obtained a permit from the inspector of buildings to construct a boiler shop. 80x159 feet on block 31, at the northeast corner of Tenth and Cass streets at the estimated cost of $12,000; and

Whereas, It is represented in the public press of the city that such botler shop is to be located upon or across one or more of the public streets of the city of Omaha, and for the evident purpose of preventing the construction of another bridge across the Missouri river and carrying out the project of the Nebraska Central Rallway company, which has been favorably considered by the authorities of the county of Douglas and of the city of Omaha; and, Whereas, If the scheme contemplated by the Union Pacific Railway company of so constructing its boller shop is carried out, it will render nugatory the entire action of the county and city authorities and will render useless the affirmative vote of the people on the proposition to be submitted at the special election to be held on June 16; therefore be it

Resolved. By the city council of Omaha, the mayor concurring, that the inspector of buildings be and he hereby is instructed to see that the said boiler shop is located in accordance with said permit and not upon the line of the contemp'ated bridge and rallway tracks of the Nebraska Central Rallway company; and be it further Resolved, That the city attorney be and he hereby is directed and required to take such action, by injunction proceedings or otherwise, as may be necessary to prevent the construction of such bolier shop except in accordance with such permit.

Laid Over One Week.

Mr. Chaffee urged that the resolution should be referred to the committee on streets and alleys, and that the city should not be hastily plunged into a law suit.

Mr. Eisasser said that the resolution should be adopted. The city attorney would not plunge the city into a law suit without was necessary to protect its rights. Mr. Edwards wanted the committee to have power to act and it was given. The report will come back to the council next Tuesday

Mr. Munro again went after the Union Pacific Railway company with this resolution, which was adopted:

Whereas. The Union Pacific Railway company now is and has been collecting money for rental from the American Water Works company for the use of ground on which said water works company's pumping station in the vicinity of the foot of Cass street is located; and Whereas, Such rental properly belongs to Whereas, Such rental properly belongs to the city; therefore be it Resolved, That the city attorney be and is hereby instructed to take the necessary steps to have said money so paid to the Union Pa-cific Kaliway company for ground rent paid into the city treasury of the city of Omaha. The new Omaha Thomson-Houston Elec-ric Light company accepted the proposition of the council and agreed to place thirty-eight additional arc lights at $140 per annum each to burn on an all-night schedule. The company also agreed to make the same price on the thirty-two are lights now in use which are in addition to the 100 provided for under the original contract. city attorney was instructed to prepare the necessary contract,

The registers who will sit prior to the special election to be held for the purpose of voting upon the bond question were appointed and the appointments confirmed.

The fees of the judges and clerks who will serve at the special election were fixed at $6 for the entire time and services, providing the county commissioners concur and agree to the price.

The city attorney was instructed to prepare an ordinance defining the duties of the commissioner of health.

Omnibus Improvement Ordinance.

An omnibus ordinance providing for the improvement of a number of streets was in-troduced, read twice and referred. This ordinance catches all of the streets where contracts for paving were awarded by the Board of Public Works with a ten-year guaranty clause.
City Attorney Connell said that he hoped that the suits in which the city was enjoined from paying Fortieth street and other streets would be settled.

There were two ordinances introduced. creating two additional city offices. One ordinance was for the purpose of creating the office of legal agent at a salary of $75 per month. His duties are to collect evidence and work under the direction of the city attorney. The other of the city attorney. The other new office is that of official reporter of the city council, with a malary attachment of $125 per month. The reporter is to stay in the mayor's office from 9 a.m. until 5 p. m. of each day. He shalt also attend all meetings of the city council and meetings of the city council and make a shorthand report of all proceedings. As soon as practicable he shall make and furnish councilman a comto the mayor and each councilman a com-plete abstract of all that has transpired at the meeting. Besides this he shall furnish to the mayor and members of the council copies of ordinances and resolutions introduced in the council.

Reported Upon Sewers.

City Engineer Rosewater, upon the subject of sewers, submitted the following report, which was referred:

of sewers, submitted the following report, which was referred:

I have the honor to report that I have made a careful investigation of all of the questions involved in the sewerage problems of the city, with a view to determine what work is necessary and what can be done with the proceeds of $5,000 in bonds sold this year.

I had scarcely begun before I discovered that it was necessary to have the entire city specially surveyed and mapped into districts, embracing drainage areas and then, after computing the slope of the surface, as well as that of the sewers, to determine the necessary size of the various sewers along the line of their respective courses. At the very outset I discovered that the extension of sewers has in many cases been apparently done to meet temporary demands without that consideration that is essential to ultimate results. The extension of the main sewer in North Omana from Sixteenth street east has been carried out apparently without computation and its present outlook embraces a double isswer, each conduit of which has a diameter of six feet, three inches. This sewer should have been built much higher to avoid back water at ordinary stages of the river. The capacity of this double sewer, under the most favorable circumstances, is only 57 preent of the sewer which it purports to be an extension of, and during average high water it has considerably less than half of that capacity. The result of this construction is retardation and back water extends far into the upperend. I find frequent similar results in sections of other extensions.

In view of this before proceeding any further I deemed it necessary therefore to map out the sewer system of the city on a very farge scale (iax) feet) and compute the eaucity of every sewer, its construction and its tributary territory.

Laying Plans for the Future.

With this accomplished, I then made a study of the utilinate demands for the entire area, and in doing so have made a special study to utilize what has been done, so as to develop the most economic results. The area of Omaha has increased from eight and a half to twenty-four and a half square miles since the original plans have teen made. The unleage of streets has increased from 10 to to miles and the population from 3 9 0 to 150,000. Outside of the possibilities of anaexing South Omaha it is improbable in a the municipal corporate limits will be increased again within twenty-five years, if then. The area of Omaha and South Omaha already covers over is per cent more ground than the city of Faris with a population of only 5 per cent of that city.

In preparing plans for future work it is safe, therefore, to assume the present area for a limit and that the entire area will practically become urban. It will cost but little more to make full provisions upon that basis in view of the special facilities afforded for drainage than to attempt to temporize. With these conditions in view I have outlined the trunk or main sewers and their outlets, and have prepared estimates of the cost of several different plans to determine which is the most economical to adopt. These plans, with more detailed explanations, I desire to submit before proceeding with any work and in order that the entire subject may be fully explained and all of the features discussed and questions answered I ask that a special meeting for the latter part of the week may be arranged, at which your bonorable tody and such taxpayers as are interested in the subject may review all of the features and arrive at conclusions intelligently.

Some Vetoes Submitted.

gently. Some Vetoes Submitted.

Mayor Bems vetoed the ordinance provid-ing for the grading of Thirty-fifth avenue from Leavenworth street to Ellis place. The objections were that the preliminary ordinance for appointing appraisers to as-sess damages had never been passed. The veto was sustained.

Then the mayor vetoed the contract with John Grant to pave Park avonue with as-phalt at $3.05\( \) per square yard. The mayor said that the price was excessively high and that it was better to delay the work than to allow such an injustice to be practiced upon the taxpayers.

On roll call Messrs, Bechel, Bruner, Burdish, Chaffee, Edwards, Jacobsen, Lowry, McLearie, Munro and Mr. President voted to override the veto, but before the vote was announced the members changed their votes and the veto was sustained, all of the members standing by the mayor.

Then the fun commenced, Mr. Lowry moved a reconsideration of the vote and Mr. Chaffee got to the front with an able second Mr. Eisasser raised the point that a vote on a veto could not be reconsidered. The president held with Mr. Elsasser, but the council did not. Mr. Chaffee, just to test the sentiment of the council, appealed and the ruling of the president was knocked out by a vote of Mr. Lowry then moved that the rules bo suspended and the vole whereby the veto was sustained be reconsidered. This went through by a vote of 13 to 3.

Then the question came up again on the veto of the mayor and that veto was rejected by a vote of 12 to 4.

There were several members who had some doubts about the legality of this action and they importuned City Attorney Council to tell them just how the matter stood.

Things is Mixed. Mr. Connell stated that he did not want to antagonize the council, but he thought matters were in bad shape. The council had instructed the chairman of the Board of Public Works to readvertise for bids for paying the street, and he doubted whether the contract could be legally approved after that action had been taken. In fact, he said, the whole thing would be illegal and void, and any taxpayer could prevent the collection of the tax to pay for the pay-Mr. Chaffee wanted that opinion in writing. Mr. Connell wrote the opinion and submitted it to the council. It was approved, only three members voting "no. At this point Mr. Edwards moved to re-consider the vote by which the mayor's veto was rejected. The motion prevailed, three members voting in the negative.

This resulted in the mayor's veto coming quarely before the council, and again it was sustained, Mr. Chaffee alone voting "no."

Right here is where the council got back at the Board of Public Works. Heretofore it has been the custom to instruct the entire board to act, but by Mr. Chaffee's resolution, which was adopted, Major Furay and Coionel Egbert were ignored because the chairman was instructed to invite bids for paving under the specifications for 1892, but with a five-year guaranty on asphalt and brick and a one-year guaranty on all classes of stone.

Routine and Closing.

The mayor sent another veto to the council. It was on the resolution to repair Spaulding street with vitrified brick at the intersections where the block paying had washed out. The resolution failed to state the amount that would be required to make the repairs.

The veto was rejected by a vote of 14 to 2. In addition to this the mayor vetoed the or-inance ordering the improvement of street approvement district No. 449. The ordinance did not state the nature of the improvement and the veto was sustained by a inanimous vote.

The secretary of the park commission served notice upon the council that a deal was pending by which the city might come into possession of the Clark tract of land for a park on the south side.

City Treasurer Bolln asked for a burglar-proof safe in which to keep the valuables of his office. The Crane Elevator company was instructed to have the elevators ready for operation as early as June 1. If not ready at that time the city attorney is instructed to begin proceedings.

Thomus F. Godfrey was appointed and confirmed as assistant boiler inspector, but contrined as assistant boner inspector, but he will be paid by the insurance companies that asked for his appointment.

The ordinance providing for the levying of fines of not less than $5 and not more than $200 on gambling houses was read three times and passed,

A resolution instructing the heads of de partments to hire residents in preference to ionresidents was adopted.

The council will hold an adjourned meeting at 2 o'clock this afternoon

SOUTH OMARA.

Attempted Assault by a Tramp-Escape o the Ruffian, Shortly after the noon hour yesterday an attempt was made by a tramp to outrage the person of Mrs. Rhoden, the wife of William R. Rhoden, living four miles south of this city. Mr. Rhoden was in a field at work at the time and his wife was alone. She visited the barn, and as she emerged therefrom was caught in the arms of the tramp, who placed manded silence. She fainted and was carried into the barn by the villain. He was about to carry out his designs when the lady's husband appeared on the scene, having returned on an errand from the field where he was working. He hastily secured a pitchfork, and as the tramp escaped from the door he hurled the pitchfork at him, but without the desired effect, and the villain

The farmer then turned his attention to his wife, whom he with difficulty brought out of the faint and she was nearly paralyzed out of the faint and she was nearly paralyzed with fright, and at the present time is suffering from nervous prestration, brought on by the great scare she experienced. Last evening Mr. Rhoden was in South Omaha to secure the services of a physician and related the story of the attempted outrage to a Bar representative. He hopes to apprehend the tramp, that justice may be meted out to him.

Proposed City Building. In executive session Monday evening the city council considered the question of creeting a new city hall. The matter was discussed at length and the session lasted until a late hour. Considerable time was taken up in agreeing upon the interior arrangement of the building. The building is to be a frame, two stories in height and in size 40x100 feet. Located on the first floor will be the fire department, police headquarters and city jail. On the second floor will be the city officials, the police court room and council chamber. The latter will be com-bined and the room will be in size 20x40 feet.

bined and the room will be in size 20x49 feet.

The estimated cost of the building is $5,000.

A large vault will be put in.

The council by a vote instructed Architect Decker to prepare the plans and specifications in accordance with the views of the members as expressed in the executive session. E. H. Howland is to executive building and the city Howland is to erect the building and the city will enter into a contract with him to renthe same, and when the amount invested is paid by the city in monthly rentals, the hall becomes the property of the municipality. In other words, the city will purchase the hall from Mr. Howland and pay for the same in

Changes in the Police Force. Officer John Van Wie has been appointed night captain to succeed Captain McManon, removed. The appointment is regarded as a good one. The removal of Captain McMahon was not unexpected, and was caused by the change in the administration. For more than four years he has been a police officer and has always proven himself efficient.

Officer Spoettle is the only remaining policeman, who did duty under Mayor Sloane's administration, the others having been succeeded by Mayor Miller's appointees.

Killed His Neighbor's Rooster. O. B. Morey, living at Twenty-seventh and M streets, has sworn out a complaint in police court against Anton Boclebeck, a neighbor, charging him with petit larceny. Morey, up to yesterday, was the possessor of a valuable game rooster, which he prized very highly and valued at $5. Yesterday Beelebeck killed the rooster and refused to reimburse Mr. Morey, who now proposes to make it warm for that gentleman, if such a thing is possible in court, Celebrated Its Fourth Anniversary. South Omaha lodge No. 66, Ancient Order of United Workmen, last night celebrated the fourth anniversary of its organization. The hall was filled to overflowing by the members and invited guests each of whom passed an enjoyable evening. J. G.
